

The Intelligencer

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852.

Office: Nos. 25 and 27 Fourteenth Street.

The Steubenville Gazette after a careful reading of the discussion among our city...

SCOTT'S HENRY G. DAVIS reported in the resignation of resignation is not received by the State...

On March of the Legislature of Massachusetts has passed a bill providing that in future, in all the cities of that State...

A Distinguished Interview. Our distinguished friend, Col. Chas. Jas. Faulkner, of the county of Berkeley...

He had seen and heard nothing in the interview which led him to believe that Mr. Tilden was disposed to force himself as a candidate before the National Democratic Convention...

A READING is to be had to-morrow in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia on the temporary injunction applied for by the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company...

Street Matters. City Surveyor Peterson wants the city to have the asphalt pavement, which has been successful elsewhere...

While the matter of street paving is under consideration, we are asked to call the attention of Council to the fact that the cobble stone streets of the city are being constantly damaged...

The Parkersburg Case. Recent decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court indicate that the sooner the jury law of this State is made to conform to constitutional amendments, the better it will be for the safe conduct of a considerable portion of our criminal litigation...

Coal Mine Accident. WELLSVILLE, Ohio, March 13.—This afternoon a miner named Wm. Davenport was fatally injured at the Diamond Coal Mines, near this place...

Jumped His Captors. CLEVELAND, March 14.—Edward S. Jones, arrested at Chicago and taken to Mansfield, Ohio, for trial on the charge of forgery on Friday night, escaped by letting himself down from a fourth-story window of the hotel, where he was in custody...

To Regulate the Liver, Stomach, and Bowels use only "Sellers' Liver Pills." Take no other. 25c. a box. All druggists sell them.

AT THE CAPITAL.

GEN. DEVENS CONGRATULATED

For the Good Work He Has Done—Senator Ben. Hill's Nemesis—Mrs. Lockwood Determined to See It Out—Democratic Senatorial Caucus—The Exodus Investigation.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The Attorney-General has received a large number of congratulations from prominent politicians in New England and the middle States, and from Virginia and other States of the South...

When the Court assembled in October he was ready to go on with the case, and they were taken up in their order on the docket and argued to the close.

The Attorney-General to-day received a letter from Wendell Phillips, also congratulating him on his success in the case, and stating that he had done a great service to free institutions.

The Democratic Caucus Committee, consisting of Senators Thurman, Bayard, Garland, Cockrell, Johnston and Morgan, held a long session to-day upon the subject of providing some method of counting the Electoral vote.

The female lawyer, Mrs. Lockwood, is Senator Ben. Hill's nemesis, and is causing the Senator a great deal of annoyance, as well as giving the gossip folk conversation.

Senator Hill, in conversation to-day, pronounced the letter and charges of Mrs. Lockwood to be utterly and entirely false. "It is a miserable, desperate lie," he said.

Senator Hill, in conversation to-day, pronounced the letter and charges of Mrs. Lockwood to be utterly and entirely false. "It is a miserable, desperate lie," he said.

Senator Hill, in conversation to-day, pronounced the letter and charges of Mrs. Lockwood to be utterly and entirely false. "It is a miserable, desperate lie," he said.

Senator Hill, in conversation to-day, pronounced the letter and charges of Mrs. Lockwood to be utterly and entirely false. "It is a miserable, desperate lie," he said.

Senator Hill, in conversation to-day, pronounced the letter and charges of Mrs. Lockwood to be utterly and entirely false. "It is a miserable, desperate lie," he said.

Senator Hill, in conversation to-day, pronounced the letter and charges of Mrs. Lockwood to be utterly and entirely false. "It is a miserable, desperate lie," he said.

Senator Hill, in conversation to-day, pronounced the letter and charges of Mrs. Lockwood to be utterly and entirely false. "It is a miserable, desperate lie," he said.

Senator Hill, in conversation to-day, pronounced the letter and charges of Mrs. Lockwood to be utterly and entirely false. "It is a miserable, desperate lie," he said.

Senator Hill, in conversation to-day, pronounced the letter and charges of Mrs. Lockwood to be utterly and entirely false. "It is a miserable, desperate lie," he said.

ACROSS THE OCEAN.

Wreck of the Steamship Montana.

Trouble Between the Greeks and Bulgarians—Changes in Turkey's Monetary Standard—The Feeling Against the Jesuits in France—General Foreign Gossip and News.

LONDON, March 13.—The splendid steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

The wreck of the Montana. The steamer Montana, of the Williams & Guion Union Line, is a complete wreck. She left New York March 2, under command of Captain Gadd, arriving at Queenstown yesterday, and departed in the evening for Liverpool.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Local News and Personal Mention—The Pedestrian Fever—The Match Between Misses Van Blum and Sherman.

The Cleveland and Pittsburgh paymaster did not leave much gold among the employees of that road here, although he started with $10,000 in gold, which he paid out along the road as fast as it lasted.

Mr. Davis, of the blast furnace, takes his final leave of Bellaire on Tuesday. The match was postponed to him on Friday evening, and the harassed reporters can rest. How many times was it announced that this match was presented at such and such a time?

A disciple (improvisatore) of M. Messmer gave a gift entertainment and exhibition in Zilch's Hall Saturday afternoon, which was largely patronized by children, to whom had been distributed slips of paper giving notice that the match was postponed.

John McGee is home from the Medical College of Baltimore; and this time it is Doctor McGee.

Will Cash, attending Iron City Business College, of Pittsburgh, is home.

At the Tunnel school house, Mr. Clinton Milligan, the successful teacher of that district, expects to close the winter term, on Monday, next, with a very large number of scholars, presented at the door would exceed the holder's admission.

Prof. Duff has been absent for several days down the river at his home.

A skiff loaded with eight or ten men, was swamped in the river between here and Benwood Saturday evening. The men had started in that way to come over to the walking match, but approached too close to a passing tugboat, the waves of which proved too much for the buoyancy of the skiff.

The Home Benevolent Society meets Wednesday afternoon in the Methodist Church.

There will be a festival given by the cored people next Friday evening.

Bellaire certainly has the "walking fever," and has it bad. The walk of Miss Elva Von Blumen and Miss Sherman, of thirty-five miles, has caused as much excitement, and as wide-spread, as two rival political campaigns.

At the opening of the week the dealers in the stock market were very much depressed, and the bank statement did, consequently, not look very favorable.

The fact that the Secretary of the Treasury bought only $2,000,000 bonds on Wednesday, when fully $5,000,000 were offered at and below the market, and the entire offering of $12,000,000 averaged very close to the current quotations, caused a general feeling of disappointment, and had a tendency to make money dearer.

At the opening of the week the dealers in the stock market were very much depressed, and the bank statement did, consequently, not look very favorable.

The fact that the Secretary of the Treasury bought only $2,000,000 bonds on Wednesday, when fully $5,000,000 were offered at and below the market, and the entire offering of $12,000,000 averaged very close to the current quotations, caused a general feeling of disappointment, and had a tendency to make money dearer.

At the opening of the week the dealers in the stock market were very much depressed, and the bank statement did, consequently, not look very favorable.

The fact that the Secretary of the Treasury bought only $2,000,000 bonds on Wednesday, when fully $5,000,000 were offered at and below the market, and the entire offering of $12,000,000 averaged very close to the current quotations, caused a general feeling of disappointment, and had a tendency to make money dearer.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.

Stirling Woodbridge is visiting relatives here. Jonathan Hoffman, of the First ward, who has been sick for some time, was out Sunday.

Mr. Fletcher, who was burned some time ago, is also out again. R. C. F.

FAIRMONT.

FAIRMONT, March 12. The Greenback cause seems to have added some strength in this country. The success with which the Republicans and Greenbackers carried the county at the last general election has attracted to it quite a number of candidates.

A taffy recently administered through the columns of the Register means something. It may possibly be explained hereafter. In the mean time, let the Fairmont politicians of the Democratic school consider the award to the shrine of Greenbackism, exercising as much haste as is consistent; if that awful combination effected, these latter day saints will assist in swelling the majority in Marion.

Rev. E. W. Ryan, of Grafton, is delivering a series of very interesting free lectures here, in the interest of temperance. The Reverend gentleman is a popular orator, and draws crowded houses. The lectures are delivered from the M. E. Church pulpit.

The citizens of this community were greatly shocked at the reception of the intelligence, Wednesday evening, of the death of T. E. Wayman, of Monaca, Va. Mrs. Wayman was a daughter of T. F. Brock, Esq., a former resident of Fairmont, and her friends here are numerous. The lady grew to womanhood in Fairmont, and formed a warm attachment to the place, and her untimely death, whom deeply deplore her untimely death.

Fire at Peel Tree. PEEL TREE, W. Va., March 12. Last night about 11 o'clock the usual quietude of our little village was disturbed by the alarm of fire, which was discovered in the blacksmith and wagonmaking shop occupied by Pough and Humes. When discovered the fire had gotten under way so that it could not be checked, and soon spread to the grange building, containing hall and store room occupied by W. W. Coburn & Co., containing near three thousand dollars worth of goods, a considerable portion of which were saved. Partially insured. The fire then extended to Joseph A. Young's stable which was entirely consumed. He succeeded in getting his horses and harness out. Entire loss supposed to be near four thousand dollars. J. H. P.

NEW YORK.

The Week in Wall Street—Variations of the Stock Market.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The stock market opened firm, but fell off in the early trade and at the call, in consequence of expectations that the bank statement would be very unfavorable. The greatest decline was in Chattanooga, which dropped 9 per cent, in a few moments. The next weakest stock was Pacific Mail, which fell by reason of the unloading of the bull pool. Toward noon there was a partial recovery, and then the market became dull. When the bank statement did, consequently, not look very favorable.

The fact that the Secretary of the Treasury bought only $2,000,000 bonds on Wednesday, when fully $5,000,000 were offered at and below the market, and the entire offering of $12,000,000 averaged very close to the current quotations, caused a general feeling of disappointment, and had a tendency to make money dearer.

At the opening of the week the dealers in the stock market were very much depressed, and the bank statement did, consequently, not look very favorable.

The fact that the Secretary of the Treasury bought only $2,000,000 bonds on Wednesday, when fully $5,000,000 were offered at and below the market, and the entire offering of $12,000,000 averaged very close to the current quotations, caused a general feeling of disappointment, and had a tendency to make money dearer.

At the opening of the week the dealers in the stock market were very much depressed, and the bank statement did, consequently, not look very favorable.

The fact that the Secretary of the Treasury bought only $2,000,000 bonds on Wednesday, when fully $5,000,000 were offered at and below the market, and the entire offering of $12,000,000 averaged very close to the current quotations, caused a general feeling of disappointment, and had a tendency to make money dearer.

At the opening of the week the dealers in the stock market were very much depressed, and the bank statement did, consequently, not look very favorable.

The fact that the Secretary of the Treasury bought only $2,000,000 bonds on Wednesday, when fully $5,000,000 were offered at and below the market, and the entire offering of $12,000,000 averaged very close to the current quotations, caused a general feeling of disappointment, and had a tendency to make money dearer.

At the opening of the week the dealers in the stock market were very much depressed, and the bank statement did, consequently, not look very favorable.

The fact that the Secretary of the Treasury bought only $2,000,000 bonds on Wednesday, when fully $5,000,000 were offered at and below the market, and the entire offering of $12,000,000 averaged very close to the current quotations, caused a general feeling of disappointment, and had a tendency to make money dearer.

At the opening of the week the dealers in the stock market were very much depressed, and the bank statement did, consequently, not look very favorable.